Their excellencies Chairman and member of board of commissioners of the Election commission of Maldives

First of all, I would like to thank you for the invitation we received to be a part of the international observation mission for the Presidential Election 2023, which was conducted on 9th of September.

According to my participation in the observation on the electoral process, I would like to congratulate you on the great success that you have accomplished in terms of preparations, logistical processes and capacity building of the electoral committees.

Also, allow me to mention that the planning process that you have implemented had applied the best international practices, especially in forming the polling and counting committees, which also took into consideration merging people with disabilities and women.

It's my honor to thank the people of Maldives for their hospitality at Fuvahmulah island and their cooperation, and a special thanks to our guide Mr.Gasim Saffaan.

In conclusion, there are no comments to mention on the electoral process that we witnessed on all levels.

Again, please accept our deepest gratitude and appreciation for the invitation. Wishing the Commission and the people of Maldives all the best and prosperity.

Cordially,

Dr. Raed AlAdwan
Commissioner
The Independent Election Commission
Jordan
